Blickman Industries Equipment Now Offered Through Attainia

Scottsdale, AZ (May 17, 2018) --

Attainia, an online source for capital equipment and management software in the healthcare industry, is proud to announce a partnership with Blickman Industries. Blickman is a leading provider of high-quality stainless steel and chrome solutions to the healthcare industry.

Blickman's full line of products is now listed as part of the Attainia equipment planning, budgeting, and tracking platform used to manage complex capital equipment lifecycles. "Partnering with Attainia allows Blickman to more fully support hospitals, primary care offices, and surgery centers in the equipment planning process," said Anthony Lorenzo, CEO of Blickman Industries.

"Attainia is pleased to support Blickman's products. Attainia software solutions allow supply chain administrators and medical equipment planners to easily view, research, and specify Blickman's full line of stainless steel and chrome solutions as they plan capital equipment for new construction and routine replacement," said David Newton, Director of Supplier Solutions and Operations at Attainia.
